Atlantic City.
October 1st

My dearest little boy-

I had a perfectly beautiful time yesterday running around Philadelphia, you don't know how sorry I was when four o'clock came and we had to turn our backs on it. I did so fervently wish that we might miss the last boat, but no such luck was in store for us- altho' I delayed as long as possible. It strikes me that "Quaker City" is about as inappropriate name as it could possibly have at present, the air is so thick with Pan Presbyterians in their red and blue badges, I looked for a certain P.P. we know of who has an undue share of red about him, but in vain- So my dear little boy can't keep his finger out of the political pie after all his resolutions- I only hope dear you'll be able to reform City and State politics, for I imagine they need it pretty badly- Good bye, small boy- Don't work too hard.

Your loving

Daisy.
