

Hotel La Salle

Chicago Oct. 8, 1917

[Illustration of a tall building with caption: La Salle at Madison St.]

Mrs. Henry K. Kelly,

West Chester, Pa.

Dearest Mother:

It was a great pleasure to receive your letter on Saturday written at the Adelpia Hotel and another one just now. I feel very rich as I have also received letters from the children and others.

We are having a very satisfactory trip so far and are meeting a great many people who are deeply interested in our work.

To-day we are having a luncheon in this hotel where many prominent people are expected.

I lunched with Miss Jane Addams yesterday and had a most delightful two hours with her. I shall see her again in two or three days when I come back to Chicago.

This evening I am going to Bloomington where we are having some meetings tomorrow and then Miss Vernon goes on to the next place while I come back to Chicago for several days. I am not sure what my