Darling daughter,

Thanks much for telegram, received for my by R.M.L. while we were at lunch. I had not seen the papers and was happy to get the good news from you. It really is fine, + I hope will prepare the way well for our damage suits. Bob congratulated me too and said how pleased he was at the decision. I don't care so much about the court decision as I do for the publicity, which is so good for us - for the F.A. Dr. Rathborne lunched with us and is nice. He carries one of the New Testament League Testaments with him + showed us where he had signed the promise to read a chapter every night. He is ½ way through [Rowans?], but immediately said he wondered whether there were not other parts that were more worth while.

Helen has gone up to lie down. The Carpenters, Dr. + Mrs., are coming at 4.30 to tea. The redeemed are still in New York, alas I shall miss them [amongst us?].

I shall go to N.Y. in about three days + stay w. Helene Nelson + perhaps w. Agnes Leach for a day or so. Then to you.

My bestest love

Mother.
