Miss Louise Lewis,
146 West Lehigh St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.
Dearest Daughter:

I am really off tomorrow for Atlanta. I had to remain in Washington until now because I could do more for the resolution that is before the legislature in Georgia from here, than I could by going down there last Monday as we had planned.

The resolution was reported out of committee last Monday, unfavorably, and was in imminent danger, hourly, of being voted on and disposed of. Miss Vernon, who is in Atlanta, got a filibuster going, which helped stave off the vote until we could get action from here.

I have been to see A. Mitchell Palmer (the Attorney General), the Secretary of the Navy, and most helpful of all Mr. Matthew Hale, former chairman of the Progressive National Committee. These men will see the President this evening or tomorrow and get help from him. In the meantime through telephoning to the governor of Georgia (Mr. Hale did that at midnight last night), we have secured the recommitment of the resolution to the committee; and there we shall try to keep it for the next ten days or two weeks -- until we have time to educate the men as to the national significance of their action.

I shall take letters with me from the Attorney General and from Mr. Hale to the governor and others.

Miss Louise Lewis page 2 July 10, 1919

Miss Beale is going with me and Mabel Vernon is there already. Of course, we shall have help from some of the local women too.

I had a lovely little visit with Bob and Helen on Monday night; Bob finally drew up at the Belvedere Hotel at about eleven o'clock. He had been trying to find me at the Mt. Royal station, and my train ended up at the Camden station. However, All Is Well That Ends Well. five minutes after we had met Bob an I had forgotten any difficulties. Helen was waiting for us and gave me a warm welcome.

The Baby is perfect. His head is twice the size that it was when I last saw him; just the difference between an orange and a grapefruit. It is too amazing the way they grow.

Their house is lovely and has the nicest kind of furniture; most of it exactly what they would wish to buy themselves if they could afford it.

Address me, Hotel Winecoff, Atlanta, Georgia.

My best love to you, daughter dear, and I wish you were going to be al together in the country until I can be with you.

Very lovingly,

Mother
