Dearest daughter,

Thanks for welcome letter with all its interesting news. And much for the numbers of my automobile. Of course you will use it whenever you wish - I think you may be glad to have it when yours is laid up for repair.

So cold last night I almost perished - finally got [written horizontally at top of page: for her Ma. Don't know whether they will or not, but I'll get someone. Am returning N. Britain ticket in case you need it + am not forgetting that I owe fri my share of it. Very loving Mother. Had nice visit all myself with Mr Daniels this morn. Told him all about our statues and our] into wadded wrapper wh. helped a lot. I washed my combinations + stockings last night + hung them up to dry in front of the window - found them frozen stiff at 5 a.m. - I wondered how long I'd have to stay in bed to get them dry, but didn't have to delay getting up when the time came, as I spread them on the radiator + they were quite all right at 8.30.

Miss Addams invited me + Miss Paul to [~~supper~~] dinner (here) on Monday night w. Florence Kelley + Miss [Lashrop?] + Miss L's sister - I sat next Miss A. + we had a fine time. The woman elector from Missouri was here on Monday - she had brought the vote on with her - She is very nice + was glad to go on my statue committee. I took her to the Capitol and then went to the Bureau of Engraving to retrieve a lost pocket book. Miss Alice Roberts, the one woman Representative (Oklahoma) also joined my c'tt'e - She is a very nice lovely elderly able plain + pleasant, but very decided woman - was an anti-suff., says she doesn't know whether she is now or not, but anyway knew S.B.A.

and is glad to know her.

The Sullivan Lewis's (he wrote "Main Street") came in for their meals almost every day, Miss Paul says. I haven't met them. Mr Volstead dined here last night.

Mrs Van Winkle (Woman's Police Bureau, an old friend of mine) is lunching with me today, as is Miss Agnes Wilson daughter of Sec'y of Labor.

Miss Anthony, daughter of Congressman Anthony (Kansas) a collateral relation of S.B.A. , is coming at 12.30 to see me. I want her to lay a wreath on whatever the tribute is on the statue for the Anthony family. Have asked May [Alcot?] to do it for Lucretia + Mrs [Blatets?]

plan to have the womanhood of the country know the pioneer suffragists, + he kept saying "very beautiful, very beautiful". I also told him about Howard Macht, how fine he is and about you. So I had a fine time. He really is a dear. I sent my visiting card to Mr Maule at Calrdwell's yest'd'y to go w. cold meat [fork?] - I [do] hope this isn't too much trouble for you.

This reads as stupidly as a dictionary - I put in all the people because I think you like to know whom I see - but am afraid it makes poor reading. Please pass on, or better read, to Mother if you can. I wrote them this a.m. - its hard to write all I wish.
