Darling daughter,

I rec'd your wire at Crowfield and am glad you are waiting to come more peacefully than you could if you came to day- that is I am glad, unless it means you are doing a thousand extra things because you are delaying- Anyway whenever you come it will be perfect to have you-

I shall be here- have decided to wait until a little later for Boston trip- I thought of going to day, but it would perhaps be too hurried to get back tomorrow-

I am waiting for Bob to have brkfst w. me- 7.45 now- & he thought he would be here between 7 & 7.15- on his way to N.Haven from W- I didn't really think he would start quite as early as he did- but wanted to be ready "in case"-

I saw Miss Kittredge yest. aft. at Hadlyme- she sent messages to you & invited us both (me too!) to spend night w. her on Cape Cod- she has rented her cottage I think, as she spoke of two tenants coming & tried refusing to blow water into her tank- but maybe they are only to be there a short time. Miss Landsbury is waiting for her [summons?] to a 7 dollar room at Corey Hill

I don't think any of them realize that you have to keep at it yourself or you just don't get it- room or any thing else- If she could have staid when they went to Boston 2 wks. ago she would have been through W.C. Hill now & going to Marblehead- I thought yesterday she looked badly.

I am wondering if Agnes is also delaying her departure- the Bradfords I know will get off to day- I do hope E. is better-

Ever so much love dear- this is my last to you-

Mother-
