Dear Mr. Lewis

Instead of thinking you wobbley, I highly approve of your taking a "woman's privilege" (?) and shall be delighted to see you next Sunday,

[page 2]

"the twenty fourth instant," it's always well to be particular. If you will stop for me about half past three I will be ready and you can take your choice between Old Trinity and St. Thomas' or any of the other churches, which do you think would be the best to go to? Am I not unusually polite? It's too bad to take up your valuable time making you read all this when you so particularly asked me only to write two lines, so I'll take pity on you and stop- about time isn't it?

Sincerely yours,

426 W. 23d St.
